The world of indexing continues to evolve from all directions.

We strive to write better quality indexes that authors and readers will love. At the same time, we yearn for a more productive and enjoyable experience when we write these indexes.

The internet is as essential as ever to our business. The potential intrusions and threat of business interruptions is a growing risk. We have to be smarter about cybersecurity.

For freelancers, the business has always been feast or famine. But an in-house indexer can also appreciate that income stability is never a sure thing. Wouldn't we all like to have more financial smarts.

These topics and more are what's in store at this year's conference. We will begin with an affectionate look back at our industry, presented by Dennis Duncan, the author of Index, A History of the: A Bookish Adventure.

New indexers have the option of registering for the Fireside Chat. This group session will be hosted on Thursday, May 12 at 1 pm EDT (UTC-4). It's your opportunity to ask your burning questions on transitioning from student to practicing indexer.

And each day there will be fun activities to help you meet your fellow indexers.

Sessions* will be recorded and made available to all registrants. (*Excludes Fireside Chat)
